

VETERANS TRAINING IN AGRICULTURE

This program is primarily for returning veterans, located on farms to take advantage of benefits available through existing legislation. It is designed to help those veterans in getting re-established on the farm by providing the necessary related instructions to fully prepare them to assume the duties of farm management and operation. In some instances, this program will also be of great benefit to those veterans employed in allied agricultural enterprises and will make up any deficiencies that might occur in out-right training on the job. This plan will enable many veterans to acquire the knowledge necessary for useful farming who otherwise would be unable to obtain an agricultural education. H.L. Fagan is the Vocational Agricultural teacher at the DeLand High School, and has two assistant teachers to conduct these classes. Thirty veterans have signed up for the course. The agent is chairman of the county advisory committee for Veterans Training in Agriculture.

Several committee meetings have been attended by the agent and the agent spoke to one class of veterans on "What The Extension Service Has To Offer The Veteran".

COUNTY ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO ASSIST IN THE DIRECTION AND PLACEMENT OF RETURNING WAR VETERANS

A committee composed of growers representing the various types of agriculture was set up by the agent called the "County Advisory Committee" to assist in the direction and placement of returning war veterans. The committee is as follows:

H.C. Allan, Citrus, Oak Hill, Fla.
R.D. Beville, Dairyman, Daytona Beach, Fla.
John Luznar, Jr. Vegetable Grower,
Rt.1, New Smyrna, Fla.
B.E. Jones, Poultryman, Port Orange, Fla.
Mrs. W.J. Coleman, Rural Woman, Barberville, Fla.
Ralph Sefton, Banker, DeLand, Fla.
P.J. Peterson, County Or Federal Employee,
(County Commissioner) DeLand, Fla.
H.L. Fagan, Vocational Agriculture Teacher,
DeLand, Fla.
George D. Livingston, Box 1631, Orlando, Fla.
(Farm Security Administration)
Gladys Kendall, DeLand, Fla. Home Demonstration
Agent
F.M. Baetzman, DeLand, Fla. County Agent, Secretary